MISCELLANY.

ADDRESS.

From the Association of the Feiends of Ireland, in Boston, New England, to the People of Ireland.

Friends, brethren, descendants of a once happy people! The grand spectacle which you have exhibited to the civilized world, stands unparalleled in the history of Nations. A people oppressed under the garb of protection—bound and subjugated to laws, to which they never have assented, and yet insultingly called free—a people hardy, bold and fearless, goaded on to deeds of violence by deprivations and sufferings, yet disdaining to resort to the physical force which nature has given them, and claiming their rights, by the sole and all-powerful weapons of truth and justice, is, indeed, a sight of which your countrymen may be proud, and will be a page of history at which posterity will point with wonder and admiration. Think not, fellow-countrymen, that the world is an unmoved spectator of your exertions. Civilized man in every land turns with wondering and anxious gaze towards Ireland, struggling for political existence, and philanthropists and freeman hail your leaders as new stars rising in the firmament of sainted patriots. And if it be, (as is the sublime conception of your own Emmett) that the spirits of the mighty dead return again to watch over and protect the interests of their country, the unembodied essences of your patriotic fathers are hovering near you, breathing into you silently and invisibly, the sacred fire of liberty, which has canonized their venerated names.

If your wrongs and efforts have attracted the gaze of the stranger and foreigner, think what must be the feelings of your exiled countrymen. Driven by oppression from our homes and our firesides, we have sought protection in a land which is more than nominally free; but the waves which bore us hither, have not washed away the remembrance of our beloved homes, and every rumour which is wafted across the mighty Atlantic, revives our ardour in the cause of our country, and pictures to our fancies, as in visions of the future, Ireland, dear Ireland, redeemed, disenthralled—a nation of freemen.

We do not address you, fellow-countrymen, in labored discussions upon the various grievances under which you heroically suffer. Our object is to revive your drooping spirits by the encouragements of our sympathy, and to call upon you in the names of your posterity, who will suffer if you prove unfaithful—by that patriotic spirit which man, civilized man, (by nature stamped free and independent) owes to his country, his home and himself—TO PERSEVERE. We discuss not your wrongs;—we dare not! For we have lived among a free people, until we have imbibed their free spirit, their free language—and the thoughts that burn within us, might, were they uttered, like the handwriting on Belshazzars's wall, proclaim to the assembled people truths and prophesies before which the "powers that be" would quail and tremble. The people we live among, long since assumed as their motto, in defence of their liberties, "peaceably if we can, forcibly if we must:"—for years have you tried the former—God in his infinite mercy protect you from the horrors of a resort to the latter!

The history of the past year has, we confess, but little in it that is encouraging. Whether we look at the Proclamation of Lord Anglesea for the suppression of the Trades' Union, the protection extended by government to the outrages of a Bingham, the bill to force back emigrant Irishmen to their respective parishes, or the attempt to gag the press, and prevent the reports of the patriotic speeches of your champion from reaching the people—from which of these events had we reason to infer any other result than the passage of the Coercion Bill, and a rejection of O'Connell's motion for a repeal of the Union. Still much has been gained—the great work is going steadily on, and we have only to remember that one repulse does not make a defeat. The time has gone by when the fiat of a British Ministry could suppress inquiry. What! the Canadas, Nova Scotia, Jamaica, even Newfoundland, each have their Legislative Assemblies, and shall Ireland, with a population of eight millions, be denied one?

Let us, then, people of Ireland, exhort you to persevere in seeking by legal and peaceable means, the repeal of that iniquitous act, which deprived you of your Legislature. Do not place yourselves in the power of your enemies by acts of violence. Obey the laws—shew to the world that you need no standing army to enforce Coercion Bills, and the tricks of your enemies, who would ensnare you into resistance, will be defeated.

Rumors have reached us that the next move in the game of coercion, will be an act to make the discussion of the Repeal—TREASON. The discussion of the Repeal of an act of Parliament—treason! If the boasted Constitution of Great Britain be not entirely forgotten, if the free principles of a once free country be not entirely eradicated, the very proposal of such an act will be hooted from the Parliament. Add to it a twin-sister act, and make the discussion of the Tythe System—Sacrilege, and the fetters of Ireland are rivetted forever. The bloody days of '98 will be lived over again—and every free spirit that dare breathe its thoughts, will expiate the offence of exercising the powers which God has given him—on the scaffold.

But beyond all—have confidence in your leaders, O'Connell and his illustrious compatriots. Tell gained the freedom of Switzerland, by possessing the hearts of the people;—Washington's arm would have been powerless, had not his country's support lent it energy;—Lafayette would have died on the scaffold, had not a people's love protected him—and O'Connel, the champion of Ireland's rights, the disinterested pioneer in her march towards political emancipation, wields the weapons of a host, when he speaks, for he utters the thoughts to which thousands of noble souls are giving a responsive echo. Trust him, c'ing to him—the base efforts that have been made by a hireling press to sever him from the hearts of Americans, have failed; and while the world honors him, let not his countrymen falter in their support of him.

Once more we exhort you to be temperate, be firm, be united. Rally round the standard of repeal, round that Spartan band of patriots who voted for it; let your energies be centered in that all-absorbing question. We shall aid and assist you as far as our means—our duty as American citizens, and the principles of international faith will admit. And may the Almighty ruler of the universe, who directs the rise and fall of Empires, and who in his inscrutable wisdom has permitted Ireland to undergo oppression and misery the most appalling, for centuries, hasten the time when she shall take her stand among the nations of the earth, united with Britain for their common defence and welfare, not as master and servant, but as sisters, with equal rights and equal privileges.

THOMAS MURPHY, President.

Boston July 4th, Fifty-eighth Anniversary of American Independence, A. D. 1834.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
City of Boston, State of Massachusetts,
July 23d, 1334,

Sir,

We the undersigned, a Committee appointed by the Association of the Friends of Ireland in this city, congratulate you on the heroic fortitude, exhibited by you in your late prosecution by the British Government, and the personal sacrifice you have made in behalf of Ireland, and Ireland's O Connell, and their Friends throughout the world.

Your conduct, sir, in your late trial, under Whig persecution, does honor to Ireland, and Irishmen in every country, where the persecution of Ireland under English domination is heard of.

Sir, were we to depict to you what we really feel towards you for the manly position you assume in defence of your country, we should fall far short of doing you that justice which our hearts would willingly respond; but still we cannot help expressing our best feelings for the independent course you took in defeating the enemies of your country, and encouraging its friends to perseverance.

Dear sir, allow us to offer you the enclosed bill of exchange for forty pounds sterling, as a testimony of our high respect for you.

We request you to present our compliments to your family, and our good wishes for your and their welfare: and believe us to be, sir, your friends and the friends of Ireland,

[Former residence.]

STONE HOUSE!
IN LOWELL.

This elegant Mansion is now open for the reception of Boarders and Strangers. The "Stone House" needs no recommendation to those who have formerly visited it. It stands on the southerly bank of the Merrimack River, about a quarter of a mile from the business part of the town of Lowell, fronting on the main road leading from Lowell westward, and having a Piazza in rear which immediately overlooks "Pawtucket Falls," and commands a delightful and extensive prospect up and down the River.
No situation in this country combines greater advantages for a Summer residence, or resort of parties of pleasure. To many it will be some recommendation at this season, that excellent Salmon are taken in the Falls at this place. The admirers of mechanical art and power will not forget its vicinity in the most important and interesting of the Manufacturing towns in New England. The lovers of natural scenery will remember its elevated, cool and commanding site, perfectly secluded from the noise and business of the town.
The subscriber has fitted up and furnished the House at a liberal expense, and relying upon considerable experience in his business, and the utmost care and attention, hopes to be able to sustain its former reputation and meet the reasonable expectation of all who may be pleased to favor it with their patronage. GEORGE W. LARRABEE.

CHELSEA HOUSE.

The Subscriber would inform his friends and the public generally, that he will continue to entertain them at the above establishment, and having made considerable improvement in and about the same, he hopes to merit a continuance of patronage from the numerous visitors of this pleasant and fashionable resort. Its location renders it a delightful residence for boarders, especially during the warm weather—and the convenience of its accommodations, the charming prospect from its observatory, and the cool and refreshing breezes that distinguish it in summer, render it a very pleasant retreat for those in pursuit of health or pleasure.
Every attention will be paid to those who may visit this establishment, and no pains spared to make it a pleasant and agreeable resort to such as may honor him with their patronage. JAMES BRIDE.
Chelsea, May 24, 1834.—tf

NEW ESTABLISHMENT.—The subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the public, that he has leased for a number of years the spacious basement story of the new building recently erected, and known by the name of Codman's Buildings, in Wilson's Lane, on the westerly side of the United States Bank, a few feet from State street, which is fitted up in as good style as any of its class in the vicinity, and furnished throughout to correspond with the improved taste of the times, and will be opened this day for he reception of company.
It being the intention of the subscriber to furnish his friends and customers with every luxury which the market affords, (with the exception of ardent spirit,) and as he will superintend himself every branch of his business, he hopes his friends and the public will afford him that patronage which it is intended his establishment shall merit.
Gentlemen whose families remove out of town during the Summer months, will find it convenient to dine at the above establishment.
Refreshments from 5 o'clock, A. M. until 10 P. M. Hot dinners from 1 to 3. Soups every day.
june 14 Respectfully, &c. E. KENFIELD.

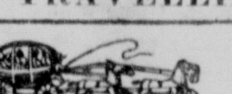

ADELPHI HOUSE.—The subscriber informs his friends and the public, that he has opened the commodious Tavern, corner of Ann and Cross streets, nearly opposite the Eastern Stage Offices, for the accommodation of regular and transient boarders. The House has been furnished with new furniture, bedding, &c.; is situated within thirty rods of Faneuil Hall Market, and in the centre of the commercial part to the city. He hopes that by devoting his whole attention to the comfort and convenience of his patrons, he shall receive a share of public patronage.

THE BOSTON MORNING POST.

MONDAY, AUGUST 4, 1834.

☞On our First Page will be found an eloquent address from the "Association of the Friends of Ireland, in Boston, New England, to the People of Ireland."

Mr Calhoun.—This member of the triumvirate is a strange compound of discordant opinions. His principles (if with him they can be called principles) are contradictory and self-destructive. Constitutionally selfish, he is distrustful. Irritable, he is impatient. Giddy with his elevation, and eager to grasp at untimely power, he forgot the quality of true fame, and became the subservient instrument of the aristocracy and the Bank. That he has brilliant talents, we cheerfully concede. His character may be summed up in one parallel from history. He was a man that had wit, insinuation and manners; but the base heart appeared through all, and to that degree, that in his adversity, it gave a ridiculous air to those qualities which, in his prosperity, were not able to take from him the air of an impostor. It is said by the great author of the "Spirit of Laws," that it is the business of a Senate in a democracy to prevent intrigues. How has Mr Calhoun followed this fundamental maxim? In his opposition he has not even respected principles of government. Devoured by the flame of his ambition, perplexed with dark designs, and disturbed by passion, he has forgotten the consistency becoming a statesman, and the true dignity of a senator. Hold up the mirror of the past, and therein reflect the features of his public conduct; it will be an influential lesson to the ambitious and reckless. Go forward, and anterior to the catastrophe of "the Correspondence," trace his opinions, develope, his political history, measure the extent and consequences of his doctrines. Let the democracy of the country look to the causes and motives which have directed his conduct. Here they will find the source of his disaffection. Here they will find why it is that he now sounds the note of patriotism; and why it is that he declaims so vehemently about violated rights, and executive usurpation. Not the declamation of the true patriot for his country's rights, but the invective of insatiate malice and revenge. To those who would see a faithful chart of his doctrines and inconsistencies, we beg leave to refer to a late number of the Globe. When Mr Crawford stood forth as the radical candidate, Mr Calhoun was the champion of consolidation principles. It was his system to knit together the interests of all the manufacturing companies in the country, to consolidate the monied power of the United States—to penetrate by internal improvements the remotest parts of the Union, and to concentrate in the Executive all the cords of local interest; and, by lavishing millions in the construction of fortifications, to put the states directly in the power of the Federal Head. But his consolidation system is crushed. Nullification, "that abortion of folly, impregnated by faction," received its quietus by the Proclamation. The plan of the monied government is paralyzed by the veto; and the only retreat of the Triumvirate is by the "fair business transactions" of the Bank, by the combination of three factious rival interests, by the seductive influence of gold, by creating discontent, to buy the suffrages of the people. The people, ever jealous and watchful, have augured these machinations at a distance, and snuffed the approach of corruption, engendered in the conclaves of the capitol; and they will bring to punishment those public servants who have outrageously perverted their delegated functions, who have violated the constitution, and assailed liberty in her chosen temple!

We accidentally omitted to notice at the time, a very spirited celebration of the Fourth of July at Gloucester, at which David White, Esq. presided, assisted by Jona. Cutter, Alphonso Mason, Gen. J. Webber, John Wonson, Theophilus Herrick, and Samuel Giles. The toasts upon this occasion were unusually spirited and appropriate—we select a few:—

The President of the United States—In the field a Washington, the defender of our liberties—in the Cabinet a Jefferson, the restorer of the Constitution.

The Federal Union—it must be preserved. He who named the text, has illustrated the practice.

The Maysville Road Bill Veto—The Bank Veto—The Proclamation—The views of the President read to the Cabinet on the 18th Sept.—The Secretary's reasons—The Protest—A New Orleans battery of heavy ordnance—the close columns of the enemy can never make head against them.

Hon. Martin Van Buren—His intrigues the services of the people—his arts the faithful performance of duty.

Hon. Levi Woodbury—Before his well earned popularity, the forked fangs of envy recoil, and malice hides her venom.

Hon. Wm. T. Barry—Gold thrice tried in the furnace, unalloyed, pure and spotless.

Our Candidate for Governor—If the Commonwealth could furnish another Marcus Morton to fill the Gubernatorial Chair, we would not spare his Honor from the Bench.

Hon. David Henshaw—His worst enemies accuse him of being a Democrat—his best friends confess that he must plead guilty.

Hon. Gayton P. Osgood—A star in the East. May Massachusetts soon exhibit 12 of the first magnitude, in one glorious constellation.

Wm. Duane—Editor of the Aurora. A Democrat of '98.—The consistent defender of the Jeffersonian policy of Jackson.

Oh, had the son been like the noble sire.

Robert Rantoul, Jr., Esq., being called upon by the Chair, addressed the company in a neat and appropriate speech, in which he reviewed the services of the President, as a warrior and a statesman, with great power, and concluded with the following excellent sentiment.

Andrew Jackson—The Country owes to him its soil defended, it homes secured, its territory enlarged, its constitution restored, its Government preserved, its Union yet unbroken, its greatest foe laid prostrate. The Hero is immortal and our country has the blessing!

The Steamboat Bangor, hence for Bangor, when off Cape Ann, on Friday, was discovered to be on fire, which caused great confusion among the passengers.—By the active exertions of Capt Howes (who first discovered the fire,) it was extinguished without much damage to the boat—and she arrived at Portland the same afternoon, whence information is obtained by the steamboat Connecticut.—City Hall Books.

Mysterious.—Capt. Hobbs, of the Br. schr. Union Jack, from Windsor, picked up, 28th inst., Mount Desert, E. N. E. 15 leagues, a hogshead containing the body of a man; but being very offensive, he let it go again, without a particular examination. One of the heads of the hogshead was hung on strong iron hinges; the upper part had an iron clasp, similar to a harness cask, and secured by a padlock.—Ib.

The Detroit, Michigan, Free Press, of the 23d ult. says—"The harvest, we learn is in fine condition, and notwithstanding the Detroit memorial, our fellow citizens are reaping the rich fruits of their labors. The weather, except being rather too warm, has been very propitious for the getting in of the crops."

POLICE COURT.

A new method of RESTORING Clothing.—Publishers of papers are naturally selfish fellows, and dont often print advertisements, without the quid pro quo; but feeling a desire to extend the fame of Levi Wilson, not less for the interest of the community, who may be benefitted by his singular mode of restoring, than for the advancement of Wilson's reputation with the public, we shall depart from our salutary, though selfish rule, and print his advertisement at length, accompanied by a brief account of the "chemical and philosophical process" by which he restored a shirt in its "pristine beauty and lustre."

Copy of a printed Advertisement, found in W's. pocket, and admitted to be his:—

"Economy is Wealth."—LEVI WILSON,—Late from N. York,

The seat of haut ton in all that relates to the decoration and polish of man, begs leave to inform the gentlemen of this place and its vicinity, that his travelling levee of fashion will be holden at   in this town, for a few days. All gentlemen who desire to have their faded garments restored to their pristine beauty and lustre, may call upon him with the most perfect and implicit confidence, that in this respect their hopes will be more than realized. He has acquired the skill of renovating old and threadbare garments; and by a philosophical and chemical process, invented by distinguished artists and perfected by himself, he is able to make the most abandoned and apparently useless article of clothing, equal, if not superior in apparent beauty and finish to their condition when first submitted to the hands of the tailor from the looms of Manchester or Lowell.

L. W. is aware of the apparent vanity of his pretentions; but in answer to those who may be disposed to think that his pretentions will fall short of his promise, and an old coat under his hands, be older still; he will only say, come and see—trying is the valued truth, and in the authenticated words of confidence employed only by those who feel the inspiration of genius and philosophical certainty.

The "restored" Shirt.—On Friday evening, Wilson was observed to halt at the window of a clothing store, No 58, Ann street, and, after examining several articles, with the air of a connoisseur, as if he felt "the inspiration of genius, and philosophical certainty," he was seen by the owner of the shop, to unhitch a new shirt, fold it up very neatly, and march off with it; and when arrested by the shop-keeper, he gave him a specimen of his skill in removing colors, by discharging the ruddy glow from his own healthy cheek, and turning it as pale as the snowy shirt. Upon searching his pockets, every thing almost, except money, was found in them.—Bills there were in abundance, and one read as follows:

"Mr Willson   To P. Robkins, Dr.

login | | | | |
meies | | | | |
liquer | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | |"

Some may think, after counting his tally for liquor, that Wilson could hardly need any further recommendation; but several billets were also found among his "private papers," which "cherfuly rekumended" him for "honesty" and so forth. In these notes, there was a "curious coincidence," both in chirography and orthography, the former being decidedly "anti-angular," and the latter anti-dictionary. The Court, having satisfied itself of the soundness of his claims upon its patronage, assigned him a suitable station, to hold his "travelling levee of fashion," within the limits of the jail yard, for 20 days, where we have "the most perfect and implicit confidence, that in this respect his hopes will be MORE than realized."

Durant is restored back in safety from the sky and the deep, to the thrice welcome embrace of his thousand anxious friends. We could almost envy him the transport of meeting them again, but for his having purchased it so dearly. It is no ordinary exstacy to feel that you have the eyes of fifty thousand gazing upon you with admiration; and of fifty thousand hearts throbbing with anxious sympathy for your safety and success—but spare us the description of that agony when we know that we are beyond the ken of all eyes: and feel that the throb of all hearts, but throb for us in vain! that no human eye beholds us, and no human hand can save us!

"The Republic of Letters, a weekly publication of works of Standard Literature," published by Wm. Pearson, 38 Gold street, New York, we most heartily commend to public patronage.

The price is six cents a number; and the work furnishes reading matter for $3.25 a year, which would cost, in the shape of books, at least $50. The 5th and 6th numbers are just issued, containing a part of the celebrated and unique Letters of Lady Wortley Mont agu which will be published in two successive numbers.

It is published on fine paper, in royal quarto, 16 pages to a number.

Atkinson's Book of Nature.—The first number of the second volume of this beautiful work is just published; it contains ten plates, accompanied by appropriate descriptions of the animals represented. The work is published monthly, under the editorial supervision of an association of scientific gentlemen, and is worthy an extensive patronage. Price $6 per annum, in advance. Mr Field, 21 Water street, is the agent for this city.

The Governor of Connecticut has appointed the first Monday in October for the election of three representatives to Congress from that State, to fill the vacancies occasioned by the resignations of Messrs Foot, Ellsworth and Huntington.

Mr Hilson, the actor, died at Louisville on the 23d ultimo. On the morning of that day, he was perfectly well, and in the evening was a corpse.

Military.—General S. L. White has been chosen Colonel of the Regiment of Artillery, in place of Col. Francis R. Bigelow, who declining, accepted the office.

Latest from Spain.—We have received, via Havana, advices from Cadiz to June 16th, inclusive.

Gen. Rodil, who commanded the Spanish army in Portugal, had arrived at Aranguez, near Madrid, and his army of 9000 or 10,000 was expected to arrive in Madrid in the course of a day or two. The Queen had arranged to review the troops in person, in order to manifest to them her gratitude for their faithful services; and it was said that she intended to advance all the officers to a rank one degree higher than they then held.

It was said that General Rodil was to be sent, with his army, to occupy the Basque Provinces, and exterminate the insurgents there, while the troops already in those Provinces, under command of Gen. Quesada, were to march into Navarre, and perform the same service in that quarter.

It was stated that in a short time the Ministry was to be re-organized.—Jour. Com.

The slight alarm which was felt yesterday in consequence of two or three cases of common Cholera Morbus, has subsided, and no new rumors are in circulation. The health of the city is unusually good for the season.—Ibid.

From New Grenada.—The brig Montilla, Capt. Beekman, in 36 days from Carthagena, furnishes intelligence of the continuation of shocks of earthquake at Santa Martha. The inhabitants flying in terror and dismay from the spot. The place almost totally destroyed by the violent action of the earth, which heaved to and fro in a manner resembling the motion of the sea. At Carthagena the shocks were not felt.

The exclusive privilege of navigating with steamboats the river Magdalena, has been continued by the Congress of New Grenada to Mr J. B. Elbers.

Connecting the Atlantic and Pacific by rail road.—The New Grenadian Congress has issued a decree authorising the President to receive proposals from individuals or companies for the construction of a rail or even carriage road across the isthmus of Panama, from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean, to be commenced within two years.—N. Y. Star.

Suspicion of Murder.—On Saturday afternoon a good looking young Irish woman, with an infant about two weeks old, was overtaken by an Irishman at the Hackensack bridge, while in the act of paying her toll, which she did from a handful of change. They passed on together, and rested awhile at the half-pay-way-house, whence they proceeded on the road to Belleville. About 5 o'clock, a few hours after, he returned and stated that he had been to Belleville, leaving the woman on the road, and on his return saw the infant in the bushes, but could not find the mother. Mr Haff, of the half-way-house, with some others, proceeded in search, having first secured the man, and found the child as represented, laying on its face in the wet meadow along side the road, nearly suffocated. The dead body of the mother was found, after long search, early the next morning. The body was considerably bruised, and we understand exhibited evidences of violence. A coroner's inquest was summoned yesterday, but we have not heard the result. We understand, however, there was some difficulty in coming to a decision. The man has been taken to Hackensack prison on suspicion of having murdered her.—Newark paper.

Extraordinary Circumstance.—The following remarkable circumstance is noticed in the Onondaga Standard. On the evening of the 9th inst. one of the warmest days in the season, three persons in the family of a Mr Ward, living on the turnpike a mile or two west of Onondaga Hill, were struck with paralysis at the same time. There were other persons in another part of the house who were not afflicted. The effect produced was precisely like that of the electricity. At the time it took place, a thunder shower was passing at about two miles distance, and it is stated that at the moment the persons injured fell, a strong flash of lightning was perceived, but it was not accompanied, or followed immediately, by thunder, It is difficult to attribute the circumstance to the ordinary causes of paralysis, affecting three persons in one family simultaneously; and we have never read or heard of a case of silent electricity that produced the usual consequences of a stroke of lightning.—Philad. Inq.

Serious Accident.—This morning, at 11 o'clock, as the workmen employed on St Peter's Church, in Roxbury, were hoisting stone to the top of the wall, a distance of over 40 feet from the ground, the staging gave way, and precipitated three men, all by the name of Mahoney, (father, son, and, it is believed, a nephew) to the ground, amidst the stone and rubbish below. The father had his collar bone broken, and shoulder dislocated; his son had his leg broken in two places—the other man had his leg badly broken in two places, near the ancle. Two were taken to the hospital in the city, the other to his dwelling in Roxbury. The neighbors gave them prompt assistance, and rendered them every kindness in their power.—Trans. of Saturday.

Accident to Burden's Steamboat.—On her passage from Albany to this city yesterday Mr Burden's boat met with a serious accident. In attempting to pass a sloop below the Overslaugh, the boat ran upon the dam above Castleton. One of the trunks bilged, filled, and sunk. The water is quite shallow at that place, and the boat remained fast aground. Thus one untoward circumstance after another delays the complete triumph of a plan which Mr Burden has invented; but we know that disinterested and intelligent persons, who have given careful attention to the subject, are strongly impressed with a belief that the expectations of the inventor will yet be fully realized.—N. Y. Eve. Post.

Something of a Joke.—A gentleman who reached this city this afternoon from Albany, tells the following laughable circumstance, which came near being a perplexing joke to a bachelor, and no joke at all to an anxious mother. On Wednesday or Thursday morning, a passenger on board the De Witt Clinton, an Albany boat, received from a person on the wharf, a delicate little babe. He supposed it belonged to some lady on board, and waited a few moments for the mother to claim it. But as no mother appeared, he ran from stem to stern of the boat, tendering the little innocent to every female on board, but nobody would take it off his hands. He went to the captain with his troubles, and the boat was put about. Another boat on her passage up, hailed the De Witt Clinton, and inquired if there was 'ever a stray bairn on board?' This set the matter to rights, the bachelor was relieved of his burden, and the mother, who, on board the other boat had been in shocking trouble, was rejoiced at receiving her babe again.—Galaxy.

"Who's to have the Stick?"—A curious dispute took place before the Police Magistrates yesterday, relative to the possession or guardianship of a little orphan girl. She was claimed by two aunts: the aunt by the father's side had reared her from infancy until she was eleven years of age; and the aunt by the mother's side had enticed the child from the house of the other, and placed her out at service. They now applied to ascertain which had the greatest right to the possession or disposal of the girl. The magistrate told them, that it was a case in which he had no right to interfere—he could not award the child to either, and he could not, like Solomon, order it to be divided between them; but he advised them jointly to look after her welfare for a few years longer, when it was most probable a husbaud might relieve them from any farther trouble on her account.—N. Y. Trans.

A heavy fall in the Candle Business.—A peripatetic vender of candles was stopped a few days ago in Philadelphia by the inspector of weights and measures in that city, who made so bold as to test the weight of the candle vender's short sixes, by inserting them in his nicely balanced scales. Pound number one was found to be no pound, and pound number two was equally deficient in both wick and tallow. The bunches that were wanting in weight were forfeited to the law, and the inspector went through the whole assortment of the man of tallow, transferring bunch by bunch to his basket, until he had completely disburdened the grease pedlar of his load. Not a grease spot was left—and away went the tallow man under bare poles, seemingly rejoicing that he had got rid of his melting load. The thermometer was about ninety, and the candle seller seemed to have concluded that inasmuch as his burden would now be melted from him, it might as well be given up at once to the man of weights, so little was he given to the melting mood.—N. Y. Times.

Fire.—The residence of Mr Robert Hartshorn, situated upon the Highlands of Neversink, was burnt to the ground on Wednesday night last, about 12 o'clock. Mr H. also lost his furniture, and a crop of wool valued at fifteen hundred dollars. There was insurance at the Globe Office in this city, upon the property destroyed, of five thousand dollars, which will not cover the loss.—N. Y. Gazette.

It is said that Leslie, the American artist, has met with a warm and agreeable reception in London, and that he has already received several orders for pictures, with promises of high prices. Among them it it said that one thousand guineas has been offered for a small picture.

The following apt and admirable illustration of the struggle between the popular and Senatorial power during the last session of Congress, is taken from the New Orleans Bee:

"The long struggle, between the popular and Senatorial power, in the days of Rome, is within the recollection of all acquainted with history. The manly stand taken by the tribunes of the people against the arrogations of the Senate, should be a landmark for the guidance of those who are entrusted with the dearest rights of freemen. Some, says Livy, have been pleased to call the opposition of Tiberius and Caius Gracchus the faction of the Gracchi against the Senate; I rather choose to call it the faction of the Senate against the Gracchi. Ay!—it was a faction of the Senate, which ended in the death of the noble champions of popular rights; and in the prostration of republican liberties, paved the way to imperial power. God forbid that America—democratic America—should add another page to the melancholy annals of national depredations, and furnish a modern example of the prevalence of patrician insolence and senatorial usurpations over the will and authority of the sovereign people. It shall not be; though Opimius rail out his insolence in the Senate, Caius Gracchus, though old, full of holy zeal, stalks the forum and watches over the household gods of freedom."

The Whigs shedding their coat again.—The following resolution was passed at a meeting in the Eighth Ward.

"Resolved, That we disclaim all connection with the United States Bank!"

How forcibly this puts us in mind of the story of the chamelion. First they were BLUE, then green, then black, then white, then NO COLOR AT ALL!—N. Y. Jeffersonian.

Democratic Sentiment.—"The blessings of government, like the dews of heaven, should be dispensed alike on the Rich and the Poor."—Andrew Jackson.

Federal Sentiments.—"Let Congress take care of the Rich, and the Rich will take care of the Poor."—Daniel Webster.

"Those who are obliged to depend upon their daily labor for subsistence, never do, never will, nor never can, enter into political affairs."—B. W. Leigh.

What is Gentility?—This has long been a disputed point, but it is now approaching a settlement. It will soon be established what is not gentility. Col. Webb says that the Government Directors were excluded because they were not gentlemen by birth, and Mr Pleasants declares that the Bank will suffer an investigation by the Finance Committee, because it does not shrink from gentlemanly scrutiny, and they will not look at private accounts.—Pennsylvanian.

Anti-Amalgamation Leeches.—A day or two since, at an apothecary's shop in this city, an American leech was placed in a vessel of water along with about a dozen of Portuguese leeches. The former was rather a heavy, black looking fellow: while the latter were of a lighter make, and spotted with crimson and gold.—At first they were a little surprised at the intrusion of the new comer. They evidently disliked his appearance, and got as far from him as possible. He, nevertheless, endeavored to make their acquaintance, and to approach them in familiar style. Finding they could not get rid of his company by a distant behavior, they next endeavored to frighten him from their presence. It was quite amusing to witness their manœuvres. They dashed at him, without, however, exactly coming in contact. They gallopped over him, and under him, and about him. But still it was all of no use. There he was, the big black leech, and there he was likely to be.

A new measure was now resolved upon. If we cannot frighten you away, we will kill you, said the spotted leeches. At least, as near as could be understood, that was the determination of one of them. He was a little fellow, but prodigiously bold and active; and, we suspect, rather bloody minded. Howbeit, he fell furiously upon the American leech, pierced his skin in a twinkling, and in a very short time deprived him of nearly all his blood. Indeed, so tenacious was he of his hold, and so determined to rob his victim of the last drop, that it was absolutely necessary to choke him off. The poor dark colored leech was removed from the presence of his enemies. But he survived only a short time; and the apothecary has become convinced, by the result of this experiment, that amalgamation will not succeed among the leeches.—N. Y. Trans.

Colonel Hackett, the pedestrian, seems to do his foot work better than his head work. The Brattleboro, Vt. Inquirer, speaking of his letters, remarks that "his manner is that of a tenth rate stage actor, causing small children to laugh, and older persons to grieve. The Col. may be a very amiable man, but walking is probably his forte, and not talking. He can handle the staff better than the dictionary."—N. Y. Times.

Rheumatism.—"I am troubled with a strange kind of rheumatic affection in my arm," said a well known, though rather needy Irish wit, the other day, to a friend, "It allows me to do some things, but it prevents me from doing others: for instance, I can put my hand into my pocket with all the ease in the world, but I never can take any thing out."

Mr Durant, who seems determined to leave neither of the four elements unexplored, descended in a diving bell off Goddard's wharf this morning. We do not learn what he went in search of—certainly not of plaice, for he is not a politician.—Galaxy.

Editorial We.—A western editor says the regal pronoun we, as so commonly used by the scribes of the press, means "me and my family." It has been generally understood to mean—'We—the editor and the devil.'

A Nice Geographer.—Lady Luxborough, in her letters to Shenstone, speaks of a noble lord, who having maintained that England was bigger than France, had no way to prove it but to cut each kingdom out of two maps of different scales, and weigh them.

The number of arrivals at New York, from Jan. 1, 1834, to July 31, from foreign ports, was 1218, being 96 more this year than last—the number of passengers this year 34,625, being 11,309 more this year than last, during the same period.

Cholera.—The cholera has broken out among the Mormons. At latest dates there had been eighteen cases and thirteen deaths. At Rushton, and several of the neighboring towns in Missouri, a number of deaths had occurred.

A chance for Speculation.—The Buffalo Rising Sun offers a premium of one thousand dollars to any person who will explain the difference between a Tory of '76 and a modern Whig.

The amount of tolls received on the several lines of Canal and Railroad in Pennsylvania for the week ending on the 7th ult., was seven thousand seventy-five dollars and eighty-eight cents.

The last Lockport Balance contains a call for a meeting of the Republicans of Niagara county, signed by one thousand persons!!

The most pure and exquisite pleasure which a man can experience is at the moment when the girl to whom he is fondly attached, but of whose affection he is doubtful, confesses that she loves him.

The Illinois Patriot, of the 12th ult., states that 16 deaths by Cholera had occurred in Rushville, and nine in Pekin. The disease appeared to be abating.

The story of the assassination of the notorious Mr Potter, once a member of Congress, from North Carolina, is denied in the papers, on the best authority.

Rochester has gained a little over 1000 in population in four years. It has now 12,000.

Tennessee vs. Duelling.—The Tennessee Convention, who were engaged in revising the State Constitution, adopted in committee of the whole on the 22d ult. a proposition to deprive of the privileges of citizenship any person or persons who shall fight a duel, or bear a challenge, or aid, or abet in fighting a duel.

News to Bostonians.—The following item of intelligence respecting the descent of Mr Durant, will be novel to our readers. We cut it from the Gloucester Telegraph.—Galrxy.

"He descended in the Bay, not a great distance from Eastern Point, and was picked up by a pilot boat, which took the balloon in tow and stood for Boston."

Contracts, we learn through the Montreal papers, have been given out for the improvement of the St Lawrence, which stupendous work is immediately to be commenced. The improvement begins beyond the Provincial boundary.

Naval.—The U. S. ship Natchez, Capt. Zantzinger, was at Rio Janeiro, June 10th, all well.

The Tompkins Blues returned to New York on Thursday morning last, delighted with their visit.

HANDEL AND HAYDN SOCIETY.—ANNUAL MEETING.—The Annual Meeting of the above Society for the choice of Officers, will be held at Boylston Hall, on THIS EVENING, at 7½ o'clock.

JOS. LEWIS, Secretary.

THE LAST SUPPER.—The proprietor of this magnificent copy in wax, of Leonardo Da Vinci's celebrated painting of the Last Supper, respectfully begs leave to announce to the public, that in consequence of an engagement to transfer the Groupe to the South, permanently, the exhibition at the Temple will close in a few days, after which another opportunity of witnessing it here cannot possibly occur. july 19

NATHANIEL GREENE, Postmaster.

RODGERS' IMPERIAL STOCKS.

6 Joy's Building, up stairs.
[Opposite the Post Office, Boston.]

WILLIAM H. ROGERS, most respectfully invites the attention of Merchant Tailors and the public generally, to his new invented Imperial Stocks for the Neck, which for ease and elegance very far surpass every thing of the kind hitherto manufactured in this vicinity. They are cut scientifically; the materials and manner of making are quite different from those in common use, and they may be covered many times, and retain exactly the same shape as when first made. W. H. R. requests permission to enumerate the usual faults in the common Stocks, viz: 1st, the very inferior materials used; 2d, their sitting away from the chin and exposing the neck, when disagreeably close at the bottom; 3d, the edge at the top being uncomfortably tight, as to cause a distortion of the features by moving the head; 4th, that of their bulging out at the sides, by moving the head a little downwards, which has a most distasteful appearance. By W. H. Rogers' deservedly admired and extensively patronized invention, all these faults are completely obviated. Naval and military gentlemen will find them the most pleasing and durable. Made to order of any texture, by the dozen or single, at the lowest cash prices. Ladies' Riding Stocks beautifully made to order. tf—july 23

EYE AND EAR INFIRMARY, No. 54 High street. Diseases of the Eyes and Ears, Ulcers in the Head, Pain, Dizziness, Catarrh, and other difficulties of the Head, attended to with safety and success, on reasonable terms. june 6

A. WATKINS, THOMSONIAN BOTANIC PHYSICIAN—Infirmary, Harvard street, (opposite 499 Washington street,) Boston—Has been acquainted with and possessed of a right to use Dr. Samuel Thomson's Patent Vegetable Medicine, for the last 21 years, and administered them in Europe, and South and North America, (including the West India Islands,) and with as much success as any other can, (with truth,) boast of. In the nine months' practice he has had at the Harvard street Infirmary, he has not had the misfortune to lose ONE patient, although many of them had been for years in the hands of the members of the Medical Faculty, and some of them abandoned to their (supposed) hopeless fate. As he is so well known in Boston, it is unnecessary to enter very largely into a detail of success. The following are a few of his patients:—

Stephen Gore, (inquire at Thomas Holland's Beach street, Boston,) totally blind for about 5 months, one eye, nearly destroyed, general debility, legs swollen and lame—appeared completely charged with poisons. General health restored; eye sight good—could see to read (without glasses) in 5 courses, &c. better than he could for seven years previous.

Mr. Parker, now assistant at the Infirmary, rheumatism and dyspepsia, cured in 3 courses.

Francis Kemlo, 153 Court street, Boston, severe indigestion and spasms, cured in four courses, &c.

Thomas Pierson, of Roxbury, and keeps a stall in the new Market, Boston,) erysipelas in the face and one eye; leg very much swollen and ulcerated from the knee to the ancle for the last 25 years—attended by many physicians; nearly cured in 5 weeks.

Miss Charlotte Pierson, do. white swelling, with loss of appetite, &c. under medical treatment 5 months, and unable to walk—cured in 3 weeks.

Jesse Brown, baker, of Roxbury, rheumatic and retrocedent gout; stomach, knees, ancles and toes greatly affected; has been confined to bed nine weeks—cured in 4 courses, &c.

Miss A. Brown, his daughter, scrofula or king's evil, cured with 4 courses, &c.

J. D. Smith, of Lexington, dyspepsia, of several years continuance—cured in 3 courses, &c.

Samuel Hawes, of Weymouth, rheumatism in the back, strictures in the urinary passage, general emaciation, &c.—cured in 6 courses, &c.

S. Smith, calico printer, of Lynn, pain in the stomach and back, and strictures across the breast, &c.—cured in 2 courses.

—— Toll, of Shepard street, Lynn, fits and severe cholic, from indigestion—cured in 2 days!

Benj. Morgan, of Salem, cancerous or scorbutic humors hand ulcerated, debility and loss of flesh; piles severe, and unable to dress or undress himself for a considerable time—cured with 5 courses, &c.

Joseph Kerrier, of Salem, rheumatism in his shoulders and arms—cured in 2 courses, &c.

Sarah Town, of Andover, indigestion, severe pains throughout the system, and piles—cured with 3 courses, &c.

Mrs Lucinda Kerr, Sea street, Boston, salt rheum; top of the head one entire scab—cured in 4 courses, &c.

A. W. cannot be at the expense to enumerate more cases, at present. He has not named cases of fevers, they are almost too ephemeral in the hands of a physician acquainted with his duty—the ignoramus or continued fever, is unknown in the practice of such. Delicacy will not not permit the naming of several diseases, which he has treated with universal success. In almost all the cases of diseases which have been treated by him, he has been under the necessity to expel not only the disease, but the poisons which produced and continued them—and all with INNOCENT and HARMLESS SIMPLES.

This practice induces him to believe he is not too bold in saying, the Thomsonian treatment removes both disease and the poisons af the Medical Faculty from the human system, when resorted to in seasonable time.

For Medicine, Family Rights to use the same, Robinson's Lectures, &c. at the usual prices, apply as above, of

ANDREW WATKINS,
Agent for Dr. SAM'L THOMSON.

P. S.—Advice, in all cases, gratis. june 23
